Scientific and Psychometric Independent Validation

The Natural DNA Behavior Discovery, the foundation of the DNA Behavior app, has undergone rigorous scientific and psychometric validation. The 46 sets of words/phrases (138 rating items) used in the Natural DNA Behavior Discovery were determined by experienced subject matter experts on the DNA Behavior research team, which included the industrial/organizational (I/O) psychologists from the Georgia Institute of Technology (GA Tech) who performed the independent validation work. The research and development team collectively represented more than 100 years of relevant academic and practical experience developing and deploying behavioral assessment instruments.

The assessment has displayed strong validity and reliability. It exhibits high model reliability, convergent validity, and excellent internal consistency. The Natural DNA Behavior Discovery has gained the trust of over 2 millions users per year worldwide, being employed in over 125 countries and translated into 11 languages.
